DAIRYMEN GET PRICE INCREASE

By Bill Reece

Retail milk prices in Tulare county along with other counties in the state will jump this Saturday.

The increase was ordered by the State Department of Agriculture after a series of statewide milk price hearings at which producers offered testimony to show that production costs had risen nearly 30 percent since the last price raise in 1952.

Locally, the increase will be 1½ cents per quart for both store sales and home delivery and will remain in effect until April 1, 1957, when the price will automatically be lowered one cent per quart under a new seasonal pricing system placed in effect by the Bureau of Milk Control.

The new plan calls for prices to change twice a year, in September, and again in April. The theory is that milk should be higher when costs are up and production is down and lower when the reverse is true. The department set the seasons as, September through March, and April through August.

Under the seasonal system, producers will receive 69 cents per cwt. more during the fall and win-

The Season For Crying Towels And Monday Morning Quarterbacks Is At Hand As Footballers Report

Coaches are getting out their largest crying towels and the Monday morning quarterbacks are preparing for a tremendous season of second guessing as Porterville college and Porterville high school football teams move into initial practice sessions within the next few days.

Head Coach Sid Hall, of the college, has an impressive list of stars who will not attend Porterville college, but he also expects a turnout of between 40 and 50 top boys who will be capable of providing an interesting evening for Central California conference foes.

First college practice is set for September 1, when the college squad will be on a two-a-day diet for work session that will continue until school opens September 10. Early-season drills will be climaxed with an intrasquad game the evening of September 15.

Hall will be assisted in his coaching duties by Bill Stroud, who will handle the backfield, and Monte Reitz, who will coach the ends.

Porterville will meet nine top opponents this season, including six in the tough Central California conference. The Pirates travel to Salinas September 22 for an opener with Hartnell college, and to Los Angeles September 29 for a return game with Harbor Junior college of the strong Metropolitan conference.

The Pirates will entertain conference foes Reedley on October 6 and College of Sequoias on October 13. They will round out their conference schedule by traveling to Coalinga on October 20, Fresno,

30 Bulls Signed For Hereford Sale

Thirty bulls and seven females have been consigned to the eighth annual San Joaquin Valley Hereford association sale that will be held at the Tulare county fair grounds, October 27.

Association members have been notified to send the necessary record for entry of sale animals to Theo. L. Cairns, acting secretary of the association, at P. O. Box 335, Lindsay. Deadline for entry is September 10.

The sale, held in Porterville as a two-day event for the past several years, was moved to Tulare this year, and reduced to a one-day event, with a show set for the morning and the sale in the afternoon.

Both Horned and Polled Herefords will be offered, with emphasis on range bulls.

MORE MONEY FOR PROPAGATION OF FISH AND GAME, LESS FOR THEORETICAL WORK IS QUESTION BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

More money for actual propagation of fish and game in California, and less money for theoretical work within the state department of fish and game, is being discussed this week in Sacramento at public hearings of the State Senate Interim committee on fish and game, with State Senator J. Howard Williams, Tulare county, sitting as a committee member.

Senator Williams, a former chairman of the committee, says that a number of sportsmen have indicated to him that they believe too much money is being spent for biologists, who seem to be constantly working on reports and surveys without coming to any conclusions, thereby taking money away from practical programs for propagation of fish and game.

Money in question, according to Senator Williams, originates from two major sources: Dingle-Johnson act funds, derived from a federal excise tax on sport fishing equipment, and Pittman-Robertson act funds from an excise tax on hunting equipment.

From these two sources the state department of fish and game receives about $750,000.00 annually, while, in accordance with a state-federal agreement, the state of California gives $250,000.00 for a total annual fund of about one

FREE ENTERPRISE IS THEME OF FAIR EXHIBIT

"Fruits of Free Enterprise" has been selected as the theme for the Porterville community exhibit at the 1956 Tulare county fair, with a Porterville chamber of commerce committee, headed by Jim Yates, in charge of planning and arrangements.

All types of farm produce are needed for the booth, with entries to be of top commercial quality — not freaks. Persons who desire to enter produce in the Porterville booth should contact the Porterville chamber of commerce office.

Junior Chamber Car Wash Set

First annual car wash will be sponsored by the Porterville junior chamber of commerce, September 14 and 15, in cooperation with Reed's 5-Minute Auto Wash at Putnam and Hockett, in Porterville. Car wash tickets are being sold by J.C. members; committee chairman is Al Pence, assisted by Gene Brogden and Bill Lake. Funds raised go toward civic work of the junior chamber.

TULE RIVER HAS FIRST COTTON BALE

History repeated itself yesterday at the Woodville gin of the Tule River Cooperative Gins, Inc., as the season's first bale of Tulare county cotton was run, duplicating a "first bale" record of 1954.

In fact, history repeated itself twice, as this year's cotton for the first bale came from the same grower as the first bale in 1954 — Lawrence Hudson, whose cotton field is located directly across the road from the gin.

Quality of the cotton was exceptionally good for early season, and as is always the case when the season's first bale goes through, Manager Roscoe Honeycutt, and many persons associated with the gin, were on hand to watch.

However the grower of the cotton, Mr. Hudson, was not present, since he is confined to his home

Entertainment for the public will be arranged for the three-day weekend, Saturday, November 10 through Monday, November 12. Tentatively planned is a two-day rodeo, with Al Soares and Carroll Simmons, of the Orange Belt Saddle club, offering assistance to the

IT'S TIME TO SAY IT AGAIN

Here it is again — our annual editorial addressed to dove hunters, among which will be us, who will swarm over the countryside this coming weekend.

Remember, please, that you are hunting on someone else's property — respect that property just as you would expect a guest to respect your home.

Close the gates that you open; confine your shooting to the game birds; go through fences, don't stomp them down; and if a dove lines up with someone's house, let that bird go by.

And for your own sake, as well as for the sake of your pocketbook, don't carry a loaded gun in your car — it's against the law and against common sense, and don't shoot out of a vehicle.

There's plenty of shootin' country open to you, so respect posted property. And if you'll take the time to ask permission to hunt, even though property is not posted, you'll find that farmers aren't such bad people after all.

Hunting should be extra good as the dove season opens Saturday; there'll be plenty of birds for everyone, so take your legal number, if you can hit 'em, and remember to be what you call yourself — a sportsman.

ter months but will forfeit 46 cents of the increase throughout the spring and summer season.

The overall increase to the producer amounts to 46 cents per cwt., for the 12 month period. But the figure is more theoretical than actual, the reason being that the bulk of milk produced locally is sold in the Los Angeles area and after deducting transportation and plant handling charges, which the producer pays, the increase dwindles to 18 cents.

For example; the Los Angeles price is $5.49 per cwt. A total of 84 cents is subtracted from this, in this manner: 14 cents for ranch to town haul, 43 cents for freight to Los Angeles and 27 cents for plant handling. Which brings the price o $4.65 per cwt. or 18 cents more than before the current price increase.

Effective September 1, social security benefit payments will go to women at 62 years of age.

California Irrigation districts covre an area of 4,424,125 acres and have an assessed value of $316,825,324.00.

PART OF the Tulare county contingent at last week's Republican National convention in San Francisco were, from left, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Prestage, Burke E. Burford and Bill Rodgers, of Porterville. Negotiations are now underway with Christensen Brothers, who stage the annual Porterville Roundup that is sponsored by the Saddle club; if arrangements are completed, the rodeo will be held at the Rocky Hill arena.

Co-chairmen of the Homecoming are J. Claude Nelson, representing the American Legion, and Orville Lofton, representing the V.F.W. Hughe C. Williams is handling publicity.

Weekly meetings of celebration committees will be held through the next two months; next meeting is set for the American Legion hall, 8:00 p.m., next Tuesday.

Johnsondale High To Open Next Tuesday

Johnsondale high school, a branch unit of the Porterville Union High School and college district, will open its fall term September 4 and run through May 28. Enrollment is expected to be about 20 students.

Classes in the two-room high school will be taught by Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Covington.

Serve Lemonade For Summer Refresher

On a hot afternoon, what's so refreshing as a pitcherful of cold lemonade? Served by itself or with cakes, cookies, or tiny sandwiches—lemonade is traditional with summer hospitality, and has earned its laurels!

And lemonade is so easy to make when you use frozen concentrate for lemonade. For this pure California lemon juice is already mixed with sugar, in just the right proportion for lemonade when water is added. Each six-ounce can of the frozen concentrate makes a quart of delicious lemonade.

The handy cans are easy to store in your freezer or refrigerator freezing section. It's a good idea to keep a pitcherful made up in the refrigerator, so that the family can enjoy lemonade at all times.

You will find frozen concentrate for lemonade so useful, too, in mixing other summer drinks. It's wonderful with fruit juices; makes delicious punches and coolers. For a sparkling summer drink, mix frozen lemonade with soda water or ginger ale. And it's fine with iced tea! Mix it to taste, adding a few spoonsful of concentrate for lemonade to each glass; or in a pitcher by adding a small can of frozen concentrate for lemonade to a quart of iced tea.

But these are just extra suggestions. Mostly, enjoy lemonade itself! It's a wonderful refresher.

FINS FUR FEATHERS

By Phil The Forester

In addition to the dove hunting season opening on September 1, it will also be legal to take brush and cottontail rabbits in Inko and Mono counties, the northeastern part of the state and in Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino counties and south thereof. The rabbit season in Del Norte county and along the coast to Monterey inclusive will open October 27 and in the balance of the state on November 17.

The archery deer season opens September 1 in what is referred to as High Sierra district including Inyo and Mono counties. Hunters should check the 1956 Digest of Hunting Regulations, obtained wherever licenses are sold, for a description of the area in Tuolumne, Madera, Fresno, Tulare and Kern that will be open.

Went to Morro Bay earlier this week to do a movie story of the live bait deep sea fishing and what happened? We ran into a salmon run and many limits were taken. We had a job to do and couldn't take full advantage but did catch some including a 26 pounder hooked and landed by Mrs. Phil. The deep sea fishing there remains tops.

John Wilson from Avila writes that fishing in that area remains excellent and he is giving a $100 prize for the largest fish taken on any one of his three deep sea fishing boats over the 3-day holiday this Labor Day. There will also be a $50 and $25 prize for second largest fish and the smallest one.

Most of the duck hunting fraternity seems quite happy with the 80 day straight hunting season starting October 20 with a bag and possession limit the same as last year, namely, seven plus three additional sprig and/or widgeon.

The coot season will not open until November 17 but will continue until March 1.

Lots of waterfowl building up and more coming in every day. Wildlife officials estimated about 8,000 ducks on one area of the Mendota Waterfowl Management area late last week.

Reports from Merced west side are that doves are leaving fast with the remaining ones bunched up in the grain stubble.

Tulare county reports fly fishing at its best from Lewis Camp to Kern Flat with fish up to 19 inches being taken. Lots of deer and grouse noted in the Golden Trout Creek area on the east side of the Kern river.

Our personal plea to the sportsmen to help prevent forest fires over the holiday and every day.

Raisin Pie Contest At County Fair Will Be "Wide Open" This Year As Four-Time Champion Will Withdraw

"Keen interest is being shown in the Raisin Pie contest at the Tulare County fair this year, since Mrs. Edward Hein, who won the sweepstakes four times, announced today that she would not compete this year. This bit of gallantry has thrown the field wide open for a new champion to appear", A. J. Elliott, secretary-manager, said this week.

Contestants should acquire a premium book by writing or calling the office at the Tulare County fairgrounds and read the rules carefully concerning this contest.

Entries will be received on Friday, Sept. 21, from 9:00 a.m. until noon. Judging will begin early in the afternoon by a qualified judge provided by the Fair association.

According to the premium book there are three popular ways to make a perfect Raisin Pie, and it is evident that all three types will be presented by the masters again this year.

First prize winning entries will be on display in the Home Economics department for the remainder of the fair, as will the large perpetual sweepstakes gold trophy which is held by the winner until next year's fair and then returned to be awarded to the next sweepstakes winner.

Awards will be made and winners honored in the Elliott auditorium on Friday evening, September 21.

The evening of Friday, Sept. 21, a "spectacle of boom, color and beauty", meaning fireworks, of course, will be presented in front of the fair's grandstand, following a Portuguese bullfight. H. A. and Albert Arends will be in charge of the pyrotechnic display.

RICE FIELD DAY SEPTEMBER FIFTH

University of California Rice Field day is set for Wednesday, September 5, at the Rice Experiment station near Biggs, in Butte county.

From Daybell Nursery By John

We're glad to see Bill Rodgers back from the convention. Last week we mentioned politicians in this column and it came out polititians, which we're sure Bill would have known how to spell.

Walt's down south this week looking for special plants to fill the special places you customers come up with. We don't expect he will return with any that grow in the sun or shade, bloom, have fruit, and grow well with too much or too little water but maybe some almost as good.

With all the smog down south it's hard to find the nurseries and even harder to see what you're buying when you do find one. We expect to come home and find we've bought a load of aircraft parts by mistake. If that happens we'll nail on some pots and sell them for planters. Couldn't be any funnier looking than some of the planters you women buy. You think the plants die from poor drainage but really it's humiliation that kills them.

There's time to give most everything else a good feeding before winter sets in — camellias, roses, lawns, trees, dogs, children, and any other growing thing should have a final push to keep it healthy through the cold weather — Vigoro, acid food, manure, bone meal, liquid fish, cottonseed meal, blood meal, and even others are available to do the job. We're closed Sunday and Labor Day.

Howard May, of Poplar, spent a few days here this week, irrigating his orange trees.

Jim McCutcheon has just set to work a neat new hay baler and is ready now for orders.

Mrs. E. J. Hunsaker, the teacher, spent a week here and returned to Woodville, Sunday.

J. H. Washburn Sr., of Illinois, a relative of the Breeding family, is here to make his future home.

Walter Graham and Burr Breeding have sent their new hay press to Roth Spur and will begin work at once.

J. W. Bursell and wife got back, Sunday, from Minnesota after a stay of two months.

The steam wagon, "Springville", will not run for a month or more. The new cut of the Dillonwood mill will be allowed to dry a little.

Ben Harrison became president on the strength of his grandfather's hat, but Lumley supporters can vote straight for his sombrero.

Our health resort is livelier than usual this week owing to a lull in work at Young's mill. Most of his crew have been in town the past few days.

Riley Graham and Bill Dunn are back from a hunting trip near Nelson's. They report a few deer scattered over the mountains but bad hunting in general.

A. E. Gill of Welcome spent two weeks here for his health and returned home Sunday much benefitted. Mr. Gill came from Canada to plant oranges in the land of sunshne. We want more like him to join us.

George Haynes came down from the mountains today with Charlie Gibson. If you want to hear the latest fish and snake stories, drop in at Haynes' place of business. But don't question him too closely when a story is finished.

THE CHAMP, one of the most remarkable exhibits in agriculture, is now touring the country, stopping at many of the major state fairs and livestock exhibitions. Produced by the Ralston Purina company, it is dedicated to promoting a better understanding of the cattleman's business of producing beef for the nation's people. Visitors may walk through the giant steer's body and see realistic demonstrations of how feed and roughage are made into beef. People enter the animal by doors that open out of the neck. Inside, they see how the vital organs of a steer's body work in the production of beef. They also see demonstrations of how a cow makes milk and how an unborn calf develops from a 30-day to a 9-month embryo. So life-like is the exhibit that the body gives off the sound of the steer's breathing and heart-beat. The Champ stands 12 feet tall, 19 feet long, and nearly eight feet wide. It weighs 4,000 pounds without the tractor and trailer. The exterior was built in 29 different parts, then assembled out of doors. Leading veterinarians and animal nutritionists assisted in making the interior displays.

Raisin Picking Wage Rates Survey From Labor Bureau

A raisin picking wage survey recently completed by the Agricultural Labor Bureau of the San Joaquin Valley, Inc., indicates raisin growers favor graduated rates of between 5½c and 6c per tray for sun drying the 1956 Thompson raisin crop.

In announcing the results of the survey, Joseph G. Brosmer, bureau manager, pointed out the rates constitute the opinions of the majority of growers polled in the raisin producing area.

"Naturally", continued Mr. Brosmer, "individual cases where production may be substantially higher or lower, rates may vary according to crop conditions."

Based on the number of trays to a unit, specific rate recommendations are 5½c for 500 or more trays, 5¾c for 400 to 500 trays and 6c for 300 or less trays. A unit denotes 500 bearing vines.

Last year, with a heavier crop indicated and a lower market price in prospect, grower recommendations for comparable units were ½c below this season's rates. Mr. Brosmer said the 1956 rates reflect the growers' willingness to share what appears to be a better return with his workers.

Egg production for the first seven months of the year exceeded 1955 production by one per cent nationally and by three per cent in California.

Commercial hatcheries in the United States produced 141,579,000 chicks during July, 12 per cent above the same month last year.

DOYLE COLONY

By Brooke Lea Heintz

Probably the oldest intact residence in the Colony is the Bella home opposite the school — built about 1880. A tank house still stands at the corner of Clatte Drive and Holcomb — part of the old Tyler ranch. Ed Quiram and family settled on East Date street during World War I.

Two ardent followers of Izaak Walton, are Everett Vaughn and "Junior" Hensley. Their favorite fishing spot is Avila Beach, just north of Pismo Beach. Everett has a Jackpot Pass for life for catching the largest Ling Cod there in June '55.

The Board of Supervisors are being petitioned to survey the district relative to installing more street lights. Resurfacing of Clatte, Holcomb and Tyler streets is beginning to shape up like a speedway — hot rodders stay clear!

Rumor has it that the Santa Fe tracks east of Porterville will be torn up when the price of steel goes higher — but, the fact is the line will be used as a shuttle service to haul materials to Success dam.

If Deputy Lawrence Johns will bring his "slightly scorched" uniform into the Nu-Method Cleaners he will receive a FREE dry cleaning job — compliments of Reid Emerson.

I thought the Farm Tribune was a busy office till I stopped in for a chat with L. F. Sherry at his watch repair shop, 941 E. Date. He told me he has been working till the wee sma hours getting his work out on "time" — must be a reason — excellent work and reasonable prices. Stop in at the fire station and register — September 13th is the last day.

An even dozen boys and girls of Doyle Colony have already entered the premium award contest toward earning a Schwinn bicycle and many other fine premiums. Encourage these fine youngsters to earn some extra cash or an award of their choice by subscribing to The Farm Tribune.

A 28 per cent drop in the California fur catch for the year ending June 30 is blamed on last winter's floods. During the season, 912 licensed trappers took pelts valued at $100,168.00, a 31 per cent decrease in value. Of the 87,000 pelts taken, 77,000 were muskrats.

TRAFFIC COUNT CONTINUES TO SHOW INCREASE

A. F. Jeffrey, Porterville area Maintenance Superintendent of the State Division of Highways, announced today that the annual statewide traffic census conducted Sunday and Monday, July 15 and 16, 1956 showed that traffic on the state highways in the Porterville area increased 8% on Sunday and 4% on Monday over last year's census. Last year the traffic for this area showed these same percentage increases over the 1954 counts. The Monday increase for this area may be slightly lower than the 1956 statewide average.

The 16-hour Monday count covering the census from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on Highway 65 was 2,571 vehicles on the New Porterville Freeway north of Poplar Road; and 4,758 vehicles passed the check station north of the city at Linda Vista Avenue.

On East Date Street at the Grevilla Street census station 6,600 vehicles were counted. Last year's count at this location was 6,276 vehicles.

Fifty-five cash prizes for fig recipes will be offered by the Central Valley Empire association as a feature of National Fig Harvest Fiesta. Entries should go to P. O. Box 368, Fresno; deadline is September 23.

Farm Exports Show Increase

Farm exports increased 10 per cent during the 1955-56 fiscal year, compared to the previous year; total value was $3.5 billion. If cotton is excluded, exports increase would be 26 per cent.

FINAL WHEAT VOTE IS 87.4%

Final count in the national wheat referendum vote showed that 87.4 per cent of farmers voting were in favor of marketing quotas for the 1957 wheat crop. "Yes" vote in California ran 72.4 per cent.

PRICES ADVANCE ON CATTLE MART

VISALIA — Liberal direct selling fed cattle last week featured the trade in this area as prices advanced usually 50c or more, some instances around $1.00. Many feedlots for quite some time have been sorting and selling cattle as soon as they reached high-good and low-choice finish. Increased sales last week left supplies of choice offerings short.

So far this summer most fed cattle have been selling after a feeding period of two to four months. Cattle fed longer than four months are extremely scarce in this area. Inquiry rather quiet Monday but this is normal for this area as tendency is to wait and see what develops at terminal markets.

Last week, some major lots sold all weights steers from around 950-1125 lbs. at $24.00. Several contracts drawn for September delivery on steers to grade mostly choice at $23.50, also 300 head for September and October delivery at $24.00, these expected to grade 90% choice and average 1,100 lbs. when delivered. Other transactions late last week included two loads good 1,000-1,050 lb. slaughter steers off clover at $21.50, 200 head mostly good 850-900 lb. short-fed heifers for September delivery at $20.00. Most fed cattle F.O.B. ranch with 4% shrink.

Under strong to higher on stockers and feeders, quite a few sales last week 50c higher, some near $1.00 up. String 1,100 head around 950 lb. Good and choice steers $18.00 F.O.B. northern California for immediate delivery to local feedlot, sizable string mostly choice 750-800 lb. steers in the Sierra mountains $19.00 for September delivery. Good and choice California stock steer calves and yearlings near 600 lbs. down $18.50 - $19.00, comparable heifers $16.50 - $17.00. Some steer calves and yearlings being held around $20.00.

Maximum picking activities in the valley raisin harvest are expected in the next seven to 10 days.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

AS A last word on the Republican National convention, we can say there was nothing "closed" about the nominations. Of course no one expected any opposition to renomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower for president, and there was none, and while there was considerable "dump Nixon" talk prior to the convention, it became obvious that Mr. Nixon had the power, as delegaes assembled in San Francisco. The fact is that the weak attempts to stop Mr. Nixon — the Stassen move and an effort by California Governor Knight — failed not because anyone put the finger on anyone else, but simply because the preponderence of support was with Mr. Nixon and few if any of the delegates wanted to join any anti-Nixon move.

AS ADDITIONAL sidelights, we might mention that we saw a number of delegates with their San Joaquin valley grapes, in fact we ate some ourselves that probably came from the P. J. Divizich vineyards right here at home . . . The Cigar Institute of America had boxes of free cigars here and there about the convention hall, but by the time we arrived, no more cigars . . . Sunkist orange juice was a popular item in the area of the working press, but we must report that Florida was also represented — Minute Maid Lemonade, free for the taking . . . And stationed about the hall were a number of Pinkerton detectives — and here we thought the Pinkertons were part of the stage robbing and train hold-up past.

WHILE YOU probably saw more of the convention on television than you would have seen if you had been in the Cow Palace, the color and the excitement and the feeling is something that you get only when you are actually present . . . And certainly the Young Republicans of San Francisco added tremendously to the convention. The demonstrations that you saw on the floor were arranged by the Young Republicans; when signs for Eisenhower and for Nixon popped up in the convention hall at the opportune time, it was the Young Republicans — several assigned to each section of the auditorium, who saw to it that everything was ready to go; prior to some of the floor demonstration, members of this group stood for an hour or longer in the tunnels leading to the convention hall waiting for the signal.

OF COURSE much of the convention was "show stuff" in a sense, but solidly American, for out of it all came presidential and vice presidential candidates, and a party platform, and if partisans became somewhat steamed up, well, that's the way we do it in America, whether we're supporting a football team or a political candidate.

AS FOR getting into the convention hall, what with tickets limited and hard to get, the spirit of American enterprise really came to the fore. Tulare county people met each afternoon at 1:00 o'clock in the lobby of the Sheraton Palace hotel to see who had talked who out of a ticket, and with the aforementioned spirit of enterprise, tickets appeared when needed. In fact, everyone from Tulare county, in so far as we know, was able to get in. And when worst came to worst, American enterprise was more than equal to the occasion, for it was remarkable how many people devised ways of passing through the gate on a single ticket.

AND NOW that both the Democrat and Republican conventions have become history, it appears that after all the words are spoken the basic issue between the two parties is simply this: Say the Democrats, we'll have the government take care of you; say the Republicans, we'll let the government assist where needed in taking care of yourself.

Senator Williams points out that the state's share comes from sale of hunting and fishing licenses, which means that the entire million dollars is actually received from sportsmen.

In other states, according to Senator Williams, money from the federal excise taxes is used primarily for game and fish management, re-seeding of deer ranges, improvement of streams, and similar projects that result directly in better hunting and fishing.

And when surveys are conducted, a conclusion is reached and findings put to practical use.

Tendency in California has been, however, to employ more and more biologists, start more and more surveys, but to seldom reach usable conclusions.

Senator Williams points out that with few exceptions, biologists are initially paid from federal funds, but, after a "temporary" period of employment, they move unto the state payroll under civil service'— a procedure that has resulted in a constantly increasing staff of biologists in the state department of fish and game, paid for by the sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

Seth Gordon, head of the state department of fish and game, with other officials of the department, is testifying at the hearings. G. W. Philpott, of Fresno, president of the Central Valley's Sportsmen's council, is attending as a representative of organized sportsmen.

Being aired also is the "deficit operation" of the state department of fish and game.

Senator Williams points out that for the past several years, the department has operated "in the red", making up its deficit from surplus funds, amounting at one time to about $5,000,000.00, accumulated during war years.

From the Sacramento hearings it is hoped will come ideas to get the department of fish and game out of the red, while at the same time improving the program of fish and game propagation, Senator Williams states.

Following the Sacramento hearings, the interim committee will conduct hearings at Oroville relative to closing of the Feather River.

OLIVE GROWERS SHOULD CHECK TREES TO AVERT DAMAGE FROM CROP LOAD, SAYS FARM ADVISOR KARL OPITZ

By Karl W. Opitz
Farm Advisor

Heavily loaded olive limbs should be pruned or braced to relieve the stress. Some olive trees will suffer breakage this year unless something is done to support or lighten their loads. Olive growers should check every tree right away so that damage can be averted.

Tree props are costly and somewhat tricky to use. If they are not placed right they are practically useless. The props should help carry the load and not act as fulcrums where the limbs may break off. They should be strong and placed to minimize danger of loss by traffic in the grove.

It is easier to relieve heavily laden branches by undercutting. This also eliminates some dead or weak wood and some of the cull fruit.

Internal bracing by means of wires or light ropes helps to carry heavy loads. This only temporarily strengthens the tree and had better not be used unless carefully done and closely watched. Growing fruit cause stresses on the tree to change. Bracing should adjust to these changes.

Regular annual pruning and early fruit thinning in heavy crop years is the best means of avoiding overloaded olive trees.
